Gavin the first thing you and your security crew might want to consider carrying is a DIY OC spray decontamination kit if you are going to be around these anti-fascists. You can keep the kit in a backpack and it shouldn't cost you more than $30 total. Here are the contents - 3 bottles of Johnson & Johnson No More Tears shampoo, a small battery operated fan, a couple of dry towels, three stackable cheap plastic containers (wide and deep enough to put your face into and swish back and forth) and one small bottle of Natural Balance Tears. If sprayed rinse out the eyes with a bottle of water, then fill the three plastic containers with water, putting the no tears shampoo in the last two containers. Use the first container as a second rinse (water only) to get the OC spray out of your eyes and off your face by swishing your face back and forth. Go to the second two and repeat the process keeping the eyes open. Use a clean dry towel to dry the face and to pat the face to soothe the burning sensation. Use the fan to cool your face and eyes so that they will not start involuntarily closing, and use the Natural Balance Tears as needed to deal with irritation. Don't waste your money on Sudocrem wipes they are worthless. Also when you shower later, make sure you are bent over, with your eyes closed and shower with your underwear on! If not the residual OC spray will run down into your crotch and it will reactivate, and that burning in your eyes will be nothing compared to having OC spray activated in your crotch (I know this from experience)!!

Also if you and your security detail decide to carry OC spray, forget about the bear sprays and the cheap rape repellent that people buy at the average gun store or Walmart. Those are irritants only and they won't shut you down (this is why protesters carry milk with them, because most of the stuff the cops use for crowd control are diluted and used as a way to disperse the crowd, not shut them down). Get an Mark I V.I.E unit (2,000,000 SHU's (Scoville Units) or higher such as Vexcor, Sabre Red, or Fox - Fox 5.8 is preferred because it is 5,800,000 SHU's. Also avoid any spray that has a conical or mist pattern when sprayed - you want a straight jet of spray to hit your target accurately. In most states you will have to get OC certification to obtain these, check with various security companies in your area they can get you certified and trained for a fee.

Please stay safe, we need guys like you more than ever

Return the favour, but use the anti bear attack pepper sprays. Much stronger than the 'human' variants, and sprays 20-30 feet, catch most of the anti-fa crowd in a single go. Then they can go cry in their parents basements.

Hello Gavin, thanks for standing up for conservative values, and finally showing the left some resistance. My wife always steps on my toe when debating the left, and I always tell her it's our duty... they are so used to not being challenged, if more conservatives finally start sticking up for them selves, the left would think twice before spitting out more tripe. And maybe the silent other half might not be so silent after all... I don't like milo but he had one thing right "the left can't tolerate anyone who doesn't agree with them"... how can we debate and have free speech.... we'll Gavin you might be onto something

Well, I saw the NYU de bacle on video and was very impressed with Gavin. Gavin trying to speak amidst the onophory of chanting, glassy-eyed borg even after being pepper-sprayed, Gavin calling out L and Rover boy, who chose the sderception of remaining with the collective, and Gavin telling the university administrator that he was a dumb liberal asshole. The "proleso" outside losing her marbles with the cops was high comedy. But there's such a danger of this kind of behaviour rubbing off on the increasing numbers of mentally-available blank slates walking around. We see it happen daily-so many new borg. In an effort to stem the tide, if there ever is retribution by conservatives, it will be the shortest fight ever and could result in much carnage. And I fear for the borg because they are so young and have been massively duped into becoming dangerous (older ones get zero sympathy and should be prosecuted to the full extent of the law for inciting riots).

Another George Soros organized disruption event. Spray them with glitter and you can follow them wherever they go. If sort of spoils their cover. And speaking of cover, where does this Soros hang out? Does he have a submarine like Captain Nemo? A lair hidden in a volcano? It's like he is a real live Boleld with no OOO to catch him and spoil his evil plots.

I'm a little confused about the terms these people shout out. Is neo-Nazi the same as fascist? Or is it just them showing off their intellect and wide range of vocabulary? Neo-Nazi fascist sexist homophobe islamaphobe pig. That pretty well covers whatever a human being can be and it's only Monday. I'll have to work harder to become even more deplorable if I'm going to fight these people.

First off, good times Gavin, wakes up the Saxon warrior in us, no one who is invited to speak on campus should have to endure potential lethal engagement with a riotous mob, self defense is fine, but the battle is not on the campus parking lots, it's in the dean's office.

If you are invited on campus then campus officials are responsible for your safety and those going to hear you.

My advice is punching is a last resort - sue the bolshie bastards who enable this crap and cause some firings and keep doing until the stink of bolshy red brigades gets to Washington and the funding gets out to universities who will not promote free speech or the safety of speakers and the core of this radicalization in bolshhevik degree programs is no longer publicly funded.

You seem rattled Gavin - calm down and get even the smart way - you were correct the meatly mouthed pxxk who was enabling unruly conduct was a guilty assemblage mob of creating an unsafe environment.

SUE - sue big and sue often.

Don't remove the mask, pull it down hard like a reverse wedge. Then use the mouth covering to hide any trace of your fingerprint pattern when you apply the one hand cleavage claw suffocation hold covering his mouth and nose simultaneously until he collapses from asphyxia.

Once the leftards start suffering casualties the police will get more motivated to provide safe passage.

Then again...on second thought...after that surge of fight/flight adrenaline and a good mind clearing deep breath and reflecting on consequence...would it have really wounded your pride that much to go in the side door like MILLO does?...you are getting to be a bit old to be a punk rocker..

Gavin is CORRECT in so far as the right must learn to stand up for themselves and fight back. The left has been allowed to bully the right by slandering them, character assassination, physical assault, etc. Past time to call them on their slander, sue for character assassination, and protect yourselves when assaulted. The pendulum of tolerance has swung too far allowing the left to break the law. Law and Order must be brought to bear on the left. Stop attempting intelligent conversation as most of the left simply regurgitate rhetoric they're fed with no thought behind it. Accountability is required and it is long past due.

Law and Order. Take it back "How dare you", yells the professor. Gavin should have yelled back "How dare you threaten our Chivvity!"

As a last thought, I would be interested to see the "authorities" be held accountable for failure to enforce Law and Order. There is no excuse.

CANADIAN MONGREL commented 2 months ago (2017-02-07 00:16:10Z)

First, if the cowardly, regressive left is resorting to pepper spray, learn to fight through it. Part of combat training...you know the direction it comes from and you attack hard. The ones using it are cowards and will not expect it. Pepper spray is a shock the first time, but not the second time when you now know you can live through it. So just attack the assaulting a-hole with intent to teach him that too much pepper is bad for his well being.

Second, no I do not disagree with Gavin. Be peaceful, but if the regressive left wants to go down the path of violence then finish the fight. If that happens enough times, the cowardly left will reckonize the irrational.

Third, as per an earlier post on another story, have the back of the alameda. They are the front line.

Fourth, why the question Rebel?? If Molnari is pulled, then what do you stand for? Fox North in Fox's new persona?
